

POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT Mathematics Faculty Position

Mount Vernon Nazarene University exists to shape lives through educating the whole person and cultivating Christ-likeness for lifelong learning and service.

Mount Vernon Nazarene University (MVNU) is an intentionally Christian teaching university for traditional age students, graduate students, and working adults who seek opportunities to learn and grow in an academic community of faith. The University provides the context for a transformational experience through excellent academics, service opportunities, caring relationships, and a nurturing spiritual and social environment. Faculty, staff, and students are challenged to achieve their highest potential, to become increasingly Christ-like and to make a difference in their world through lifelong service.

Mount Vernon Nazarene University is seeking a full-time (nine month) Mathematics or Mathematics Education Faculty Member, beginning in the Fall semester of 2026. Rank is Assistant Professor or higher. Compensation is competitive among the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities. A full complement of benefits is provided, including a health care plan, retirement contributions and tuition assistance (self and dependents).

Responsibilities and expectations for this position include:

- Teaching a broad range of undergraduate mathematics courses. Teaching assignments will range from general education courses to upper-level courses for Mathematics majors dependent on the candidate's area of expertise. Teaching load will be approximately 12 credit hours per semester.
- Advising of students majoring in Mathematics or Mathematics Education and ensuring that their academic progress meets requirements set by the institution, as well as working with students to encourage professional development.
- Supporting efforts for continuous improvement within the mathematics programs.
- Serving the University through committee participation.

Qualifications for the successful candidate:

- Evangelical Christian statement of faith, experience, and mission fit.
- Personal commitment to Jesus Christ.
- Understanding and alignment of the heritage, doctrine, and practices of the Church of the Nazarene.
- A doctoral degree in Mathematics or Mathematics Education is preferred; candidates holding a master's degree in mathematics with experience will be considered.
- A strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching in a liberal arts setting and a commitment to scholarship and continued professional development.
- Excellent oral and written communication skills, a demonstrable track record in successful teaching, and proven ability to work effectively with others.

In a continuing effort to enrich its academic environment and provide equal educational and employment opportunities, the university actively encourages applications from members of all ethnic groups underrepresented in higher education. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled; however, early application is strongly advised. Interested candidates should send an application letter, curriculum vita, unofficial college transcripts, evidence of teaching competence, names and contact information for three references, a one- to two- page statement of educational philosophy, and a one- to two-page statement of faith. Applicants are encouraged to submit application materials via email as Microsoft Word, .pdf file attachments, or as hard copies to:
